

USE OF RUBBER HOSE ON PUPIL WINS APPROVAL

Vote in Open Town Meeting About Three to One in Upholding Action of Principal How- ard L. Holden

PUNISHMENT NEEDED

Says All Schools Use Method
—Woman Against Action
After Beating Herself

Principal Howard L. Holden of Elmsterd school to chastise disobedient pupils with a rubber hose, was upheld tonight by a large majority at an open town meeting called to consider the issue which was raised by the use of a rubber hose on a Negro pupil whose parents protested. The board of education at a recent meeting voted three to two against the practice.

N. F. Sharitan, president of the lural board of education, opened the meeting with an address in which he called corporal punishment an "evil necessity," adding that he never had heard of a school that could get along without it.

When he was through speaking, Mrs. WILLIAM Clark, who described herself as a "citizen" arose and, walking to the speakers' platform, took the rubber hose and beat herself about the legs with it. Later in the evening she said her limbs felt bruined and declared herself as opposed to the use of the hose on children.

Hobbled Crippled Father.

A man then tried to get the floor but was denied the privilege of speaking.

was elected by a policeman.

Mr. Holden arose to speak and was greeted by cheers from the audience in the hall and from the school children at the window.

President Sharlan called for a vote on the question. It was estimated that three persons voted in favor of corporal punishment for everyone opposed.

Mr. Holden then told the audience that when he was young his father thrashed him with a "fawful" whip.

"Let me father," he said, "when some day I would be big enough to use it on him."

Later he told reporters that when he was 13 his father had reminded him of his threat and expressed doubts of his son's ability to administer a thrashing. In the friendly scuffle that followed, Mr. Holden said, he injured his father's spine, crippling him for supreme court here today returned a verdict of $25,000 against the New York Central railroad in favor of Mrs. Minnie Patterson of this city, for the death of her husband, William A. Patterson, who was smothered to death beneath four carloads of coal in Indian Castle, near Little Falls, in January, 1922. Mrs. Patterson brought suit for $50,000 for her husband's death and for $25,000 for her husband's suffering he was still to have undergone.

Attorneys for the railroad contended that Patterson was operating a train between two points within New York state, while counsel for the plaintiff argued he was handling a article used in interstate commerce. The attorneys were directed to file briefs as to the application of the case under the federal statutes.

PEOPLE NEED TO UNDERSTAND DUTY AS CITIZENS — ROOT

Syracuse, Oct. 3 — Failure on the part of the great body of plain people, who are the driving force behind modern government, to understand thoroughly the duties of citizenship, might prove fatal to freedom and justice, was the warning sounded by Ethna Root, former secretary of state, in an address at exercises in connection with the formal opening of the school of citizenship and public affairs at Syracuse university here today.

Q. Mr. Row maintained that public opinion is the most powerful force in the moulding of laws, and a government that fails to understand the trend of public opinion fails in its purpose.

Johnson Finally Attains Ambition

WALTER JOHNSON

The great hurling star of the Washington Senators, who has put in 15 years of brilliant work for a generally mediocre team, is at last on the point of entering a world series contest. The speed ball king is ready to enter the fray and should the weather predicted for today materialize, he believes he will be in excellent condition to buffet the Giants.

Baltimore, Oct. 3. — Helpless before the southpaw curves of Miles Merritt of St. Paul, the Baltimore Orioles were whitewashed in the second game of the little world series here this afternoon, 6 to 0. Only three Orioles hit safely and after the first inning, when an error and a walk, but two men on base with one out, the birds had no real chance to score. This game makes the series stand one-all.

Get Jump on Cubs in Sixth and Never Headed—Cubs Score Only in Eighth. (By the Associated Press)

Chicago, Oct. 3. — The White Sox made it two straight from their Cub rivals today by winning the third game, 4 to 3. "Red" Faber, star spit ball twirler of the American leaguers, had his opponents baffled most of the way, and only in the late innings did he become uneasy.

The White Sox got the jump on their foe in the sixth frame after two were out. Collins worked! Jacobs for a pass and Sheely drove the ball to right field. It struck the fence and rolled under the stand for a home run.

BIG PEAT BED IS UNCOVERED BY SEA

Find Expected to Cut Cape Cod Fuel Bills.

Boston.—Cape Cod folks have solved the fuel problem for "a hard winter." If successful, the coal barons and middlemen, who have been receiving $20 the ton for the poor quality of coal, will get a jolt likely to be long remembered.

In a word, Cape Codders are to return to the peat burning days of their forefathers, utilizing a recently discovered peat deposit, estimated to yield 1,000,000 tons of fuel, the sea on Nauset beach in Eastham.

The peat deposit is the greatest natural wonder on Cape Cod. The peat bed is within 300 feet of the ocean, separated at low tide by the white, sandy beach and frequently lashed by breakers. The deposit has been completely covered for 250 years or more by 30 feet of white beach sand.

Gunsold, who visited these shores long before the pilgrims left a map of Cape Cod which shows that at Eastham and also at Chatham long points of land containing hundreds of acres extended miles into the Atlantic. The Eastham point was named Point Car and the other Point Gilbert. They entirely disappeared years ago. To this day, however, vessels and fishermen have fouled anchors and lines on roots of trees, pieces of which have been brought to the surface, these roots giving positive evidence that land once extended from Chatham to George's banks, 70 miles east-south-east from Chatham Light.

Capt. Abbott Walker, veteran of coast guard station No. 73, says he first observed evidence of a peat deposit near that point ten years ago, in that short interval the sea has advanced inland many feet.

The great deposit, which crops out at the foot of the bluff, extends some distances underground, and probably runs back under the coast guard station 500 feet. Inland, beyond the station, is a large swamp, which is about on a level with the peat bed and may form a part of it.

A portion 50 feet wide facing the sea and 40 feet in depth to the bluff behind it has been uncovered by the surf.

In appearance the peat is a rich dark brown of a purely vegetable matter such as decayed leaves and sticks. It crumbles easily, burns freely when dry, but holds fire well and gives off a great heat. The smoke has the pleasant odor of burning cedar.

Carry Death Notice Through Town on Silver

Tallahassee, Fla.—Funeral announcement on a silver salver, borne through the streets by an aged negro, is an old Spanish custom which exists today in Tallahassee, and nowhere else in the United States, according to the historical committee of the Florida centennial celebration.

"This means of announcing the death of a member of a leading family long antedated the newspapers," points out Col. Fred T. Myers, Tallahassee attorney, whose family has resided here continuously for more than a century. "It was common in the days when the flag of Spain waved over Florida, and has persisted in the face of modern means of communication."

A carefully engraved announcement of the place and date of funeral and burial is attached to a broad silver tray by bands of black silk ribbon. A dignified negro then bears it through the business section. He presents it ceremoniously to all who care to read.

Bones of Elothierium, Tertiary Beast, Found

Portland, Ore.—Fossils of another strange animal which used to roam the wilds of eastern Oregon years ago have been discovered. A group of University of California geologists have found the skull, tooth and several bones of an elothierium, a squirrel-like creature which probably existed in the tertiary age. The skull was about the size of that of a horse, except that it was flatter. One of the teeth was about two inches in diameter and about three inches long.

Women Train as Bankers in China; Run Own Bank

Peking.—Thirty girl students have graduated from a "school of banking" established in Peking two years ago, and will be appointed to posts as clerks and officers in the Peking Women's Commercial and Savings bank.

The banking school was established by a Mrs. Wu, who was impressed by the success attending efforts of Chinese women in Shanghai to found a bank. The Peking women's bank is still in embryo, but it is proposed to start it with $1,000,000 and to be ready for business next spring.

In an address to the graduates, Mrs. Wu stressed the point that Chinese women should interest themselves in business to make their own way and lag behind their western sisters. By cultivating an earning capacity, she said, educated girls may not be forced by their parents against their will.

Mrs. Hsuing Hsiao, wife of ex-Premier Hsiao, is said to be a patroness of the new banking enterprise.

Boy Fails Eleven Times to Steal Way Into U. S.

Bremerhaven.—Paul Krupp, eighteen, is now in jail here for ten weeks because of his persistent endeavors to reach the United States as a stow-away. Each one of eleven endeavors has resulted in failure.

But Paul is not discouraged. He says he will next try to slip from Hamburg, where he is not so well known. He prefers American ships for his ventures because the officers are easier on stowaways than men of other nationality. He is striving to reach Springfield, Ohio, where he claims to have friends.

Golf AS CHAMPIONS PLAY IT

What is a cure for topping?

Answered by WILLIAM MEHLHORN.

Western open champion, 1923. Holds lowest total score made by any professional competing in all of the last three National open championships.

Here is the big cause of topping—remove it and you remove the call. Topping is caused chiefly by lifting the head and swinging the body during the back swing. Turning the left knee and the left shoulder slightly down and toward the ball will help to keep the head in the right position. Merely watching the ball is no cure for topping—the head must be stationary.

U. &amp; D. RETRENCHING

Would Disperse With Agent at Davenport Center.

Albany, Oct. 3. — The Uster and Delaware railroad company today filed an application with the Public Service commission asking for consent to the discontinuance of the services of freight agents at four of its stations during certain months of the year.

The petition alleges that the business of the railroad is largely seasonal, depending considerably on the summer travel and freight traffic. In other months of the year business at some stations is insufficient to justify the maintenance of agents, the petition says, and declares that economic operation of the road requires that they be closed during the slack months.

It is proposed to do away with the services of an agent at Cold Brook from January 1, 1925, to May 25, 1925; at Mount Pleasant from October 15, 1924, to May 25, 1925; at Davenport Center from November 1, 1924, to May 1, 1925; and at Haines Falls from November 1 to May 25. During these months freight would continue to be shipped to and from these stations, but bills of lading would be handled at nearby station. Ashokan would continue to handle the freight at Brook station; Phoenix of the Mount Pleasant station; East Meredith of the Davenport Center station, and Tannersville for the Haines Falls station, the petition states.

Deer Shed Horns Yearly

The horns or antlers of deer are shed and renewed yearly. The horns are usually shed soon after the breeding season. It requires about three or four months for the new horns to reach full size.

Toothbrushes for Dogs

Use of toothbrushes and mouth washes for dogs, as well as the grinding or slicing of the meat served them, are among the recommendations of an English canine specialist.

Surrogate's Court, Otsego County. In the Matter of the Estate of Frances E. Fritts, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that we, the undersigned, administrators of the estate of Frances E. Fritts, deceased, will, pursuant to an order of Hon. Sheldon H. Close, surrogate of Otsego county, made on the 30th day of September, 1924, sell the premises owned by the decedent at the time of her decease, located in the city of Oneonta, N. Y., at public auction, in front of the store occupied by Ernest N. Bolton, 35-57 Chestnut street, Oneonta, N. Y., on the 24th day of October, 1924, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, said premises being briefly described as follows:

House and premises known as No. 51-53 Chestnut street.

Store and premises known as No. 55-57 Chestnut street.

An apartment house known as No. 65 Chestnut street, corner of Academy street.

The administrators have the right to withdraw any or all above pieces of property, and to sell the same at private sale prior to the time set for said auction. All sales are made subject to the approval of the court.

A complete description of said properties, together with a map thereof, and the terms of sale may be examined at the office of Owen C. Becker, 101 Main street, Oneonta, N. Y.

LOCAL SECTION
—Miss Grace P. Miller entertained at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home, 300 Main street, in honor of Miss Alice Ford.
—There was a very good attendance at the Firemen's dance held last evening and all apparently enjoyed the event very much. Music was provided by Lynn Smith and his orchestra.
—Republican headquarters were opened yesterday at 214 Main street, the old G. A. R. rooms in the Westcott block, with John Slattery in charge. They will now be open daily from noon.
—Mayor Bolton has called upon the members of the Common Council to join him in the Allegiance parade to be held this afternoon in connection with the W. C. T. U. state convention.
—This evening in addition to the other features announced for the W. C. T. U. convention the Loyal Temperance legion of the Plains school will give a Patriotic exercise under the direction of Mrs. C. Campbell.
—The speakers at the Americanization luncheon at the Community house tomorrow will be Mrs. Athena Marmaroff, a missionary from Ellis Island, and Miss Josephine Catalda, an Italian missionary from New York city.
—Six or seven cars are needed for the W. C. T. U. parade, especially one touring car which may be used with the top down. They will be needed only about a half or three-quarters of an hour. Please call the Chamber of Commerce office this morning.
—For the Allegiance parade to be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock all members of the W. C. T. U. organization will meet and form in line in the First Presbyterian church, while all other organizations will form their lines of march on Elm street or in the church driveway.
—In addition to The Star the world series baseball games will be received at the Elks' club, the Y. M. C. A., and countless other places where radio outfits with loud speakers are to be found. The Star's services will be complete in that if the wireless comes in poorly, the telegraph wires will supply any part of the story that may be missed.

Meetings Today.
The Woman's Relief corps will meet at the corner of Main and Elm streets at 3:35 this afternoon to parade with the W. C. T. U.
Regular meeting of Woman's Relief corps in Odd Fellows' hall tonight.
Members of the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church not marching with another organization are requested to meet at Decker's furniture store this afternoon at 4 o'clock to join in the Allegiance parade with the W. C. T. U.
The women of the First Presbyterian church are urged to meet at the church this afternoon at 2:45 o'clock and march in the Allegiance parade, in connection with the W. C. T. U. convention, with the Missionary society of the church.
The Burroughs' Nature club will meet with Mrs. Arthur Ford, 31 Watkins avenue, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Meeting Monday.
The regular meeting of the Delphian society will be held at 7:30 p. m. October 6 in Library hall. A large attendance is desired as this is the opening meeting of the year.
Aged Woman Breaks Hip.
John W. Squires of Church street is in deposit where news that his aged mother had sustained a fracture of the right hip called him a day or two since. The mother, Mrs. Nancy Squires, in addition to breaking her right hip, cut a gash in her right arm and sustained some bruises, faint and fell on the floor of her home. She is 85 years of age and because of her advanced age, the injury is a serious one.

Bridge Wins Classes.
Mrs. George Curtis of Elmhurst, who so ably conducted classes in bridge while in our city last spring will return the last week in October. There will be a series of six beginners' lessons and six advanced lessons. Each lesson to be two hours for one table of four, each series of six lessons will be eight dollars.
Those desiring to form tables or wish further information will communicate with Mrs. George Baird, advt 31.

Business Opportunity.
As I have sold my machine shop property and broken up my long established repair business on Market street, and as many of my customers have expressed a great deal of interest in my doing so, and as I have a number of machines still unsold which I offer at a low figure, there is an excellent opportunity for the right party to purchase these machines and take up the business which I have so long pursued. H. E. Gorham, advt 31.

Roosevelt Endorsed for Governor By State W. C. T. U. Convention; Demand Enforcement of Law

Delegates in Session Here from Every County of State Vote to Send Telegram to Republican Standard Bearer Congratulating Him Upon His Candidacy—Mrs. Boole, State President, Warns Against Foes of Prohibition and Says Drys Have Many Enemies Still to Conquer—Cites Series of Triumphs Resulting in Defeat of Wet Activities—Three Stirring Sessions Held Yesterday.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Republican nominee for governor of New York state, yesterday received the endorsement of the temperance women of the state, when the Golden Jubilee convention of the W. C. T. U. of New York, in session here, unanimously adopted a resolution to send him a telegram congratulating him on his candidacy.
"The democratic platform declared for light wine and beer," said Mrs. Ella G. Boole of Brooklyn, state president, in commenting upon the convention action. "The Republican party of the state reaffirmed its national platform and declared for legislation to make operative and to enforce all laws."
"Colonel Roosevelt was recognized as a wet because he had voted for the 2.75 per cent beer bill when he was a member of the state legislature. Under these conditions we were not quite satisfied with the plank in the Republican state platform, because we felt that it was capable of two interpretations."

Dry Advocates Aroused.
"The temperance people of this state were a good deal aroused over this subject and we felt that Colonel Roosevelt should state his position as to the kind of legislation he would recommend if elected governor."
In his speech of acceptance, he said he would do all in his power to secure the enactment of proper statutes to assist our peace officers in the enforcement of the Volstead act of congress, as well as all other acts and laws, as long as it remained upon the statute book.
"Colonel Roosevelt said that whether or not you or I approve of an individual law, there is one course open to us and one only, if we are real Americans, and that is, to enforce it, as long as it remains the law."

Mrs. Boole, in delivering her annual address to more than 600 delegates assembled at the morning session, sounded a note of warning against the operations of those opposed to prohibition and the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.
"We thought that when we entered the promised land of prohibition we could enjoy it," she told the assembled delegates in the First Presbyterian church. "So thought the children of Israel when they crossed the Jordan. But Joshua made war a long time with those kings and each one had to be conquered in battle."
Much Fighting Ahead.
"When prohibition came many felt it was an end of fighting. We had reached the promised land. We very soon discovered there were many kings to be conquered."
"It has been harder to mobilize our forces since prohibition came than before. I firmly believe that the Jubilee with its campaign for a million dollars and a million members has saved the life of our organization and perhaps prohibition itself."
"From the campaign for a million dollars we have learned that it is possible to raise money for the work of the W. C. T. U. and we not only have raised the million dollars but have adopted a budget plan by which we are able to secure funds for local, county and state work, while the Jubilee million helps the National and the World's."

"Our Jubilee campaign for a million members has stressed the importance of belonging, has pushed organization, and has made a point of enlisting new members in every community. Its value has been greater than the thousands of a single day's work for the nation of the world have taught the vision and have practically every National W. C. T. U. there have been sent in dues for an increased membership."
"But we have many enemies of prohibition to conquer. The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is an organized enemy. It has money, it has influential supporters, and it is determined to win. It has, however, suffered through serious defeats this year. One was staged in congress. Fifty-nine beer bills were introduced in a single day by as many members of congress. A worded exactly alike, proposing to amend the Volstead act to change the alcoholic content from one-half of one per cent to two seventy-five one-hundredths per cent. Long hearings were held before the Judiciary committee at which both sides were heard but none of the bills were reported. They even failed to secure the expected and desired publicity."

Enemies Second Defeat.
"The second defeat of our organized enemy, and therefore a triumph for us, was in the national convention of the Republican and Democratic parties, for both passed law enforcement planks, and both nominated men who have declared themselves in favor of law enforcement. In the Democratic convention which met in the wettest city in the country, the stage was all set for a wet plank and a wet candidate; but neither happened. As the delegates came from all over the United States, and so represented the entire country, we can declare that the decisions of these conventions constituted a referendum in which the drys won."
"The third defeat will be staged in the election of the next congress, where they are working for the election of congressmen committed to an amendment to the Volstead act to increase the alcoholic content of intoxicating liquor. We confidently believe that New York will gain some dry congressmen this fall. The result of the primaries indicates the drys are out to win, and the W. C. T. U. is out to help them win."
"To win will mean a long drawn out battle. To win we must hold high our standard."
"The future of prohibition in the world depends upon the success of our great social experiment in America. We know not in what form or where we must meet our opponents, instead of yielding to their demands in the political field, we answer by demanding that our officials, from president down to the lowest official, do their duty in enforcing the law. We call upon the citizens of our great state who so nobly sacrificed to win the World war, to approach the solution of this problem with the same spirit."

"It may be necessary to change some social customs to do this, but social customs can be changed. It may be necessary to perfect our laws. It may be necessary to secure better enforcement officials. It will be necessary to change the public attitude on the whole question, but it must be done."

LA FOLLETTE RALLY PLANNED

Three of four big brotherhoods have endorsed the candidacy of La Follette for president for Municipal Hall Oct. 16.
Publication of a statement in The Star that little support for La Follette for president could be found in Oregon brings out information from representatives of three of the four big brotherhoods to the effect that the local units of three of the four big brotherhoods of men engaged in trade service have followed the action of the grand officers of their organization and endorsed the candidacy of the Wisconsin senator. Inquiries were addressed to some of the members of these brotherhoods before the publication of the statement made, but evidently either the ones interviewed were in ignorance of the action or preferred not to be the authority for any public statements.
The committees representing the three brotherhoods are arranging for a rally to be held at Municipal hall on Thursday evening, October 16, to be addressed by capable speakers, who will present the issues of the campaign as viewed by his supporters. The public are invited to attend the rally.
One of the committee states that men formerly affiliated with both the Republican and Democratic parties are on the committee and are active supporters of La Follette.

AUTOMOBILES DAMAGED.
Machines Put Out of Commission in Chestnut Street Accident.
An automobile belonging to H. W. Schoonmaker, 238 Chestnut street, was badly damaged in a collision with a machine owned by Howard L. Campbell of Cobleskill, at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, according to reports made at Ontario police headquarters.
Mr. Schoonmaker declared he was coming out of West End avenue when the other machine coming down Chestnut street, struck his car in the rear, breaking off the tail light, dislodging the bumper, splintering six spokes in the rear left wheel and bending the left rear fender.
Frank Denigris, 54 Market street, and Lester Myers, Cobleskill, reported a collision which took place Thursday morning at Fonda avenue and Chestnut street. Mr. Denigris said that both front fenders, running boards, springs and front axle were damaged. Raymond L. Barnes, 251 Chestnut street, reported that he hit a boy riding a bicycle near 251 Chestnut street. Wednesday afternoon, smashing the bicycle. Mr. Barnes said the accident occurred when the boy cut across the street in front of the automobiles but that the boy was not injured.

And They're Glad It's All Over

Seattle at last! The pallid American aviators who beat the first air trail around the globe are shown at their great, Smith landing field, from where they set out on their earth-circling journey. Seattle went wild when the fliers landed. Major Martin, chief commander of the expedition at the start, stands at the extreme left, listening to Lieutenant Eric Nelson's account of their trip.

PASSING OF OLD
SHIP END OF ERALast of Sailing Whalers
"Piled Up" on Rocks.

New Bedford, Mass.—The Wanderer, last of New Bedford whalers, is through. She finished where she began, and today is pounding to pieces on the rocky ledges of Cuddy-bank.

It marks the end of an era—the passing of an era of romance when "iron men went down to the sea in wooden ships"—the end of the era that gave New Bedford its "whaler's motto"—"A dead whale or a stone boat."

The Wanderer sailed on the cruise of 18 months, scheduled to be her last. The cruise lasted little more than a day, and the voyage for 15 miles. For Captain Antonio Edwards, the skipper, found he hadn't enough men, so the bark was anchored off Mianus Point. During his absence the Wanderer began to drag anchor during what her crew of another generation would have called a mild breeze, drifted before a northerly gale and went on the rocks. And the Wanderer, half a century the product of New Bedford's fleet of lumbering whalers, is breaking up on Middle Ground shoals, a total loss, ending her career as the old plainsman—with her boots on.

Captain Edwards, who has been sailing on whalers for 32 years, reported the bark a total loss. Her foremast had dropped through her hull and she had buckled amidships.

While thousands of visitors thronged the deck of the Wanderer 48 hours before, sea-tanned whalersmen were overhauling her gear, zipling the whaling spades and fitting the trylines, our kettle just as they did a hundred years ago when whaling was in its heyday and New Bedford was the whaling port of North America.

The Wanderer is known to thousands through a popular moving-picture film, in which she was used in the whaling scenes. It was planned to put her back into the movies.

Built in 1848, bark-rigged and coppered, the Wanderer's hullwork rose high over the deck, while her wheel was entirely covered by the high poop deck. The hullwork was so high it was impossible to see to starboard.

Boy Salvages $180 in Discarded Refrigerator

New York.—Emulating Old Mother Hubbard, Alexander Simonetti, ten years old, saw an old icebox reposing in a vacant lot and thought he would search it for a bone for Rags, his animated and interested companion. But, unlike Mother Hubbard, he not only found one "bone," but 180 of them rolled up in a little green bundle and tied with a rubber band. He ran around to the Simpson street station with his find as fast as his little legs would carry him and turned the bank roll over to Lieutenant Evans, who is keeping it for the owner.

Swedish Farms Lighted and Operated by Current

Stockholm.—While the utilization of water power for every purpose has been developing rapidly in Sweden during the last two decades, there is a strong tendency at present to convert the turbine power into electric energy for further industrial use. Thus factories are being built hundreds of miles away from the source of their power, and electric current is not only distributed to all parts of Sweden, but is exported to neighboring countries as well.

There are now 2,100 large power plants in Sweden, of which about 80 per cent furnish light, heat and power for the country districts. Besides, there are several hundred smaller plants using less than 10,000 horsepower each.

Forty per cent of the Swedish farms now run their household, dairy, and agricultural machinery by electricity, and 50 per cent of the houses in the country districts are lighted by electricity. This is believed to be a record for the world.

Harvest of the Sea

Fish to the value of $50,000,000 are consumed annually by mankind. Of this amount Europe collects about half, the United States nearly one-third and the remaining one-sixth goes to the rest of the world. Translating this into weight, America uses about 2,500,000,000 pounds of fish a year, including shellfish.

NEW RECORD IN
RAW SILK RACEAmerica Winning Heats in Contests Whose Stakes
Are Millions.

Washington.—The Sam has been winning heats in one of the most dramatic races ever staged by trade—the raw silk transport race.

The course is 8,300 miles. Swiftest steamships, special trains for which speed limits are waived, seaplanes and airplanes participate. But there is no cheering crowd in the stands, because every mile of the race is concealed with the closest secrecy. The stakes are millions.

In 1918, 51 per cent of the United States' huge silk imports from Japan came in foreign steamers but within two years steamers flying the American flag in the Pacific have obtained an important share of this valuable trade.

Why silk is rushed from Yokohama to New York at breakneck speed, outdistancing the best passenger service, and the thrilling details of this contest against time over the world's longest race course are told in the following bulletin issued by the National Geographic society:

Excepting gold and silver bullion, silk probably is the most precious commodity, weight for weight, carried on a large scale by commerce. A single special train will bring $5,000,000 worth of silk. Just as it costs dearly to ship money, high charges are put on silk shipments. The saving of two days' sailing time between Yokohama and Seattle is said to make a difference of 50 cents a bale at New York. Interest on the millions of dollars tied up multiples at the rate of thousands of dollars a day and, in addition, there is costly insurance.

New Silk Course Record.

The world's record on the Yokohama-New York silk course was set up a few months ago when the Orient was brought within 13 days, 8 hours and 8 minutes of Manhattan. Laden with $5,500,000 worth of raw silk, the President Jackson made Seattle on the ninth day. A United States mail seaplane met the liner at Victoria and winged its way to Seattle, 100 miles away. It brought port documents and forwarded cargo papers to New York before the President Jackson docked.

Special port forces moved the rich consignment in three hours to a special silk train waiting with steam up. The swift Oriental limited passenger trains take 70 hours to reach Chicago; the "reefer," as the silk special is known to railroaders, makes it in 35 hours. Twelve cars were required for the President Jackson cargo. With Queen Silk goes a heavy cordon of train guards armed to the teeth. When the treasure train safely reaches New York the shipment is divided quickly among the consignees for storage in warehouses or dispatched to mills in such famous silk centers as Paterson, N. J., or Woonsocket, R. I. Carried on Mystery Train.

Few people know when the "reefer" is on the rails. Like a ship of war, it virtually runs under sealed orders. Railroad divisions seldom know what it is coming or where it is going until it and orders arrive.

The previous speed record for silk shipments was made when the President Grant landed a $10,000,000 consignment at Seattle. The "reefer" brought this product of billions of caterpillars into New York in 13 days, 4 hours and 35 minutes out of Yokohama. Night air mail will be a boon to these New York silk merchants. Before silk shipments can be released many papers must be approved and inspected. Seattle has one of the two seaplane mail services in the United States, hence Queen Silk will suffer no embarrassment of delay. Night air mail will hasten dispatch of silk shipment papers to New York so there will be no slip when the dusty "reefer" reaches the Hudson.

Although silk culture originated in China and the very name China finds its birth in a term meaning "silk people," the United States looks to Japan for most of this raw material. American mills are weaving nearly 50,000,000 pounds of raw silk annually, of which about 80 per cent comes from Japanese mulberry orchards. The ugly little silk worm is treated with great respect in the Orient for it brings to the Far Eastern peoples more than $90,000,000 from the United States alone.

Queen Silk's throne is as solid as the year it was set up by a Chinese princess, centuries before the birth of Christ. The Western world began to worship her when the crusaders went to the East to kill the horned devil and returned to imitate the fine gentlemen they found there. The merchants of Venice, thriving on the West's new knowledge, like the merchants of New York today, guarded Queen Silk well; this single city-state built 300 men-of-war to convey its silk fleets.

Innocent of a Barber

Mayville, Mo.—W. R. Taylor, who lives on a farm between this city and Cameron, declares that he has lived 72 years and has never been shaved by a barber. Taylor revealed this fact when he read in a local newspaper that a man has reported that he was fifty-one years old and had never been shaved by a barber. As a result of his claim, Taylor beats the other man by 21 years.

Chinese Art of Healing

In China the art of healing is still based on superstition and to the Chinese evil spirits play a great part in all illnesses.

Paradise for Bears
Found in Lost Valley

Essex Mills, Calif.—Reports credit strange things to a "lost valley" in the Sanjion mountains led Dr. Paul Chalmers, Dr. Warner Hoyt and Harvey Miller of Berkeley, to explore the region.

They found the valley a beautiful little plain, almost impenetrable, but there was nothing more startling than the number and size of the bear tracks. The three men went by motor as far as they could, then took horses into the wild and rugged Caribou and Sawtooth ranges. The hidden valley lies between the headwaters of the Trinity and Salmon rivers. Some distance before reaching it they had to leave their horses and make their way on foot. There was no trail into the valley, which is protected by sheer peaks at the head of Thompson's creek.

The explorers found a clear gemlike glacial lake at the upper end of the chain, with a lush green meadow at the lower end. There was a multitude of the mud wallows sometimes called "bears' bathtub."

Snooks, Noted Horse,
Bears 13th General

Camp McClellan, Ala.—Gen. Hugh A. Drum, deputy chief of staff of the War department at Washington, is the thirteenth general in the United States army to ride Snooks, noted Sixth cavalry horse, while on a tour of inspection of Camp McClellan. Its owner is Capt. Van Dyke Ochs.

Snooks is twelve years of age and lays claim to a place in America's Who's Who for other achievements than that of bearing 13 generals. In his whole life history Snooks has never entered a horse show without bringing out a tangible distinction of some kind. He has won 49 ribbons and 13 cups.

The following generals have had the honor of riding old Snooks: Pershing, Scott, Shanks, Holbrook, Harris, Haubrock, Helmick, Erwin, Parker, King, Wells, Winans and Drum.

25,000 Farmers Unite to Pray Gods for Rain

Kioto, Japan.—More than 25,000 farmers participated in a prayer ceremony held recently in Fushimi county, Kioto prefecture, to pray to the ancient Shinto deities to send rain. Drought has been threatening the western and southern part of Japan with serious rice crop shortages this year.

The drought is causing quarrels among farming communities in various parts of southern Japan, where the water supply is inadequate. The governor of Kumamoto prefecture has been asked to act as referee between two villages which are quarreling over the right of one higher up the stream that runs through both, to dam the stream to get water for its parched crops.

Fights Son

DO NOT VOTE for MY SON

Father will oppose son in the campaign for the United States Senate in Minnesota this fall. Merle Birmingham, independent candidate on a beer and wine platform, has found that his most bitter opponent—politically—is his own father, the Rev. Thomas C. Birmingham of Millford, Neb. The Rev. Mr. Birmingham has addressed a letter to the voters of Minnesota asking that they defeat his son.

ROOSEVELT ENDORSED FOR GOVERNOR BY STATE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

be done, and what must be done, can be done, and, by the grace of God, the W. C. T. U. will help to do it."

Delegates Showed.

Music, splendid addresses, roll calls, the ringing of jubilee bells and the waving of white ribbons were testimonies of the high degree of enthusiasm reached by the W. C. T. U. convention during its three sessions yesterday. Many delegates arrived on the morning train yesterday, bringing the total number of visitors well over the 500 mark, with representatives present from every county in New York state. This is the first meeting in the history of the state organization, where every county was represented.

The church parlors presented much the aspect of a Presidential convention with conspicuous black and white banners waving above the press and the pulpit. And the war cry, "You can't have any way you please just as you please to vote dry," became almost as familiar during the day as, "Alabama casts 24 votes for Underwood," became at a recent Presidential upheaval.

The Morning Session.

The morning session was called to order at 9 o'clock by the president and began with a devotional service led by the superintendent of evangelistic work, Mrs. Lillian Perkins, whose request for a prayer was offered by Mrs. Katharine Warner, president of the Chautauque union, after which Mrs. Caroline P. Lindway, president of the Albany union, led in the salute to the flag. The most interesting if not amusing event of the morning was the roll call of ex-officio members, each delegation responding with ralles, clever verse or songs.

The report of the executive committee was made by the recording secretary, Mrs. Mary B. Wood, and the following committees were appointed: Credentials, Mrs. Helen Estelle; courtesies, Mrs. D. L. Colvin; members, Mrs. Lulu Walker; subscriptions for Union Signal, Mrs. Sadie Hall; for Young Crusader, Mrs. Grace Newton; for Woman's Temperance Work, Mrs. Pauline Meeker. The executive committee also reported in favor of endorsing Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy.

At the conclusion of the report, a vote was taken to send a telegram of congratulation to Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

In the demonstration of Jubilee bells, arranged by Mrs. Mary B. Wood and Mrs. Lillian Payne, brief talks were made on the following timely subjects, the topic of each talk being printed on a large gold bell carried by the speaker: Law Enforcement, The Union Signal, Publicity, Doctors and Nurses, Soldiers, Schools, Banks, the Supreme Court, Women Voters, Labor, Life Insurance Companies and the Man of 1924. Music was furnished for the demonstration by the Ukelele club.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was reserved for a number of official reports, including the report of the vice president and of the regional conferences by Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin; the report of the corresponding secretary by Mrs. DeSilva in the absence of Mrs. Margaret Sloat; the report of the treasurer by Mrs. Fronia G. Allen; the young people's branch by Miss Helen Estelle and the report of the Loyal Temperance legion by Mrs. Grace Newton in the absence of Mrs. Gertrude Higby.

The total number of W. C. T. U. members in New York state was reported to be 42,433.

The following counties were awarded prize ribbons for a gain in membership during the past year of fifteen or more: Broome, the banner county; Greene, Dutchess, Albany and Erie.

The meeting was addressed by the following visitors: Rev. Kilpatrick of Oneonta; Rev. Cook of the Baptist church of Springfield Center; Rev. Mr. Dodge, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist church; and Rev. O. B. Miller, an excellent talk was given by Mrs. Margaret Deek Hill of the African Methodist Episcopal church of Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. Deek is president of the W. C. T. U., No. 2, of Baltimore, and is touring the state in the interest of temperance.

Evening Session.

The Gloria Trumpeters were the musical attraction at the evening meeting, proving a novel and delightful variation to the usual musical program. During the evening they rendered in a most pleasing fashion, the Bible's march from "Rebekah," the Pilgrims' March by Wagner, "Gloria" by Dvorak and the "Military Polka" by Chopin.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Harriet M. Taylor, president of Chautauque county, after which two splendid addresses followed.

Declaratory Temperance Work.

Mrs. Lottie Abbott Woodford, field worker and state temperance instructor of the National W. C. T. U., spoke upon the value of compulsory temperance education in the schools, contrasting the dry books and methods of instruction in current use with those of the new and some of the most interesting work carried on by the department of a declaratory temperance instruction as that of making experiments to determine the actual effects of alcohol upon the human body. Much has already been done along this line but there is still much more to be accomplished. At the conclusion of the address of Mrs. Woodford, the speaker of the evening, it is now given as a variety of songs and a short play on the subject of the new temperance work.

A new temperance book, "The New Temperance Book," has been published and forward looking steps to temperance education are being taken. The book is now being distributed in the most straightforward manner, deciding no issues and being forth even the most unfavorable facts in a fearless manner.

During the missionary work among the people of the East coast was born in my mind that cannot be escaped, namely that the nations of Europe and Asia are losing respect for the Christian religion. The people are no longer speaking of the superiority of the white race. The question that most Europeans put to us is: Are you going to keep the eighteenth amendment? In answer to this I want to say that 99 per cent of our people are law abiding but the remaining 1 per cent have thus far been unresponsive enough to throw out the majority.

People Must Vote.

"There is one thing that must be impressed upon the people of our country and that is the value of voting and accepting our responsibilities as citizens. Only 55 per cent of the people in New York state are registered voters while last year only 49 per cent of the total population of the United States voted.

In the matter of World W. C. T. U. the organization is coming to accept some of the greatest responsibilities among missionary activities. The missionary worker today has almost everything against him. The natives of many of the eastern countries do not even wish to accept Christianity but rather are vastly pleased with their own belief. They are suffering to be the fruit of the Christian religion. How can our missionaries uphold American creeds and ethics to these natives when the moving pictures are holding before them the worst phases of American life? These native ones had only native drinks but Europeans have complicated circumstances by adding their own vices.

Cleaning Out All Vices.

"It is here that the W. C. T. U. is constantly coming to the rescue. Our workers have cleaned out the vice district in Burma and in Singapore. The people are playing for the cause of missionaries among them. The missionaries are given every assistance by the public officials and when local W. C. T. U.'s are formed many of these same officials become officers."

Mrs. Frances W. Graham, national musical director, sang "Victory" in a most inspiring manner, being accompanied by the Gloria Trumpeters and by Mrs. Carolyn Lindsay at the piano.

Mrs. Fannie Daner gave a few minutes talk on W. C. T. U. activities in Ham, where she has been residing as a missionary worker.

Today's Program.

The morning session will consist principally of reports. Two addresses will be given at the evening session which will last from 2 until 4 o'clock. Following the roll call the program will be addressed by Harold S. Tollev, Republican candidate for congress, and by another candidate whose name has not as yet been announced. The allegiance parade will begin promptly at 4 o'clock and will be led by the popular Gloria Trumpeters. The trumpeters will again appear at the evening session at which also a "Save America" contest will be conducted by Miss Gladys Widrick, Miss Margaret Funston and Mrs. Vanda Webster.

Program for Sunday.

The annual sermon will be delivered by Rev. J. C. Russell, at 10:30 a. m. A mass meeting will be held in the Oneonta theatre at 3 p. m. The evening service will begin at 7:30 with music furnished by an augmented choir directed by Prof. E. P. Perry.

ROME WINS AIR RACE

Placed third in Victory Tour on Monday. Captain, Captain 1924. Place in Victory Tour on Monday.

(By the Associated Press)

Wilbur Wright Field, Oct. 3. — Hard luck flew with Charles E. (Casey) Jones, Curtiss exhibition company pilot, in the aviation town and country club trophy race of the international air races today and a $1,000 prize slipped out of his hands. With the race safely won, he was within 30 seconds of the home pylon when he was forced down by engine trouble.

The accident to Jones brought Basil L. Howe, Albany, N. Y., in first, and he received the $1,000 prize for speed. There were two first prizes in the race, the other being awarded for efficiency.

Howe is well known in this vicinity and has been seen in many fights in surrounding communities in years past.

USING STOLEN DOG TAGS.

Dog Catcher Crawford to Pick Up Dogs Without Lawful License.

A number of tags have been stolen from the collars of licensed dogs in this city recently, in some cases even the collar having been taken, and W. O. Parkinson, dog inspector of the state department of Farms and Markets, who has been in the city for a few days, is determined that not only will the practice of stealing tags be stopped, but that dogs wearing the unlawful tags will be picked up by the dog catcher and proceedings instituted.

The abuse of the tags is one which has caused no little trouble to the officials in this city, and in a tedious check-up it has been practically determined where some of the tags have come. Unless some move be made by the guilty parties it is expected to start actions against those who are abusing the tags, placing them on dogs which have not been licensed.

Another point brought out through the visit of Mr. Parkinson is that dogs, regardless of age, which are allowed to run at large, must wear tags, and will be picked up and held in the city pound even if they are but a month old.

Any noticed violations of the law regarding the licensing of dogs, or any dogs noticed to be running without tags, should be reported to Mr. Crawford, whose phone number is 1170-J.
